BRING BOY-ED'S NAME INTO TESTIMONY

German Naval Attache Is Mentioned Twice Again at Conspiracy Trial

TO DETERMINE QUESTIONS

State Department Will Settle Questions Affecting Status of Belligerents Representatives

MAKES ATTITUDE CLEAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Twice again today the name of Captain K. Boy-Ed, German naval attache, was brought into the testimony of witnesses at the trial of Karl Buenz, Adolph Hochmeister, Joseph Poppinghaus and George Kotter, officials of the Hamburg-American line accused of conspiracy to deceive and defraud the government of the United Staes by despatching relief ships with supplies to German cruisers in the Atlantic and Pacific at the beginning of the war.

Deal With Quesada and Thor.

After having established in the forenoon session that the defendants had succeeded in lodging coal and supplies aboard at least two of a fleet of five German warships and convoys in the Atlantic in September, 1914, by means of the Berwind, an American ship flying the stars and stripes, the government proceeded to deal with the Marina Quesada which sailed from Newport News, December 16th, 1914, for Valpariso, Chile, and the Thor, which sailed August 3rd, for Buenos Aires. The governmenta charges that they were two of the sixteen boats chartered by the defendants on their alleged unlawful practice.

While the defendants admit that they chartered twelve steamers for the purpose charged by the government—denying in their concessions, that by doing so they were guilty of conspiracy—they do not admit that they had anything to do with the Quesada.

On the contrary William Rand, their counsel announced that his clients had nothing whatever to do with this vessel and strenuously opposed all testimony concerning her.

The government sought to prove their contention by the testimony of Norman Hamilton, collector of the Port of Newport News, Bruce McIntyre, an employe of the Berwind-White Coal company at Newport News, Elliott M. Parker, connected with the Pocahontas Fuel company at Newport News and John F. Harper of Norfolk.

Formerly a Norwegian Steamer.

From their testimony, it developed that the Quesada was formerly the Norwegian Steamer Gladstone and that she changed her colors after the war started. She sailed on a clearance granted by Mr. Hamilton, after she had been tied up for some time at Newport News and Norfolk. Her manifest stated that she was loade with coal but the government sought to show that she also had provisions aboard. Testimony on this point was incomplete at adjournment.

The Steamer Thor was granted clearance by Mr. Hamilton after McIntyre had sworn to her manifest. This simply detailed coal as her cargo and gave her destination. McIntyre said he was informed that her cargo was coal from Hasler Brotehrs, shipping agents. Later it developed that she had abroad $3,700 worth of provisions and stores paid for by the Hamburg-American line. This Mr. Rand admitted.

McIntyre said he had been deceived and that falsity of his oath was unwitting. There was nothing to show that Hasler Brothers, either knew she had stores aboard.

Lansing Makes Attitude Clear.

Washington, Nov. 24.—All questions affecting the status of diplomatic and consular representatives of belligerent governments in the United States will be determined by the state department on broad grounds of policy with especial reference to the maintenance of friendly relations with foreign governments. This was made known today by Secretary Lansing when his attention was drawn to testimony given in the federal court at New York that Captain Boy-Ed, the German naval attache, furnished funds where by a conspiracy was alleged to have been conducted by agents of the Hamburg-American line to supply German warships at sea. The secretary made it clear that while he had full knowledge of the evidence on which the cases were being prosecuted in New York, the state department has not given its approval or disapproval to the opening statement by Assistant District Attorney Wood referring to Captain Boy-Ed. Officials at both the departments of state and justice, explained however, that there was no controversy over jurisdiction between the two branches of the government.

At the department of justice it was made clear that all the evidence in its possession had been brought to the attention of the state department as rapidly as it was gathered but that action affecting diplomatic officers immune from prosecution lay naturally within the province of the state department.

The position of Secretary Lansing is that diplomatic representatives are not only immune from criminal prosecution but that nothing done by the department of justice binds the state department.

In the case of Captain Boy-Ed, Secretary Lansing's view is that so far as he is able to judge from the information in his possession the German naval attache did not violate any law in supplying funds to obtain coal and provisions for belligerent ships at sea since this in itself is not a criminal offense.

Legal proof, it was pointed out at the state department, is not necessary in any event in deciding whether the personal acceptability of a foreign diplomatic officer is terminated.

Action, it was stated, could be just as well based on presumption.

LEGISLATURE RECESSES FOR THANKSGIVING

INDICATIONS POINT TO SINE DIE ADJOURNMENT NEXT WEEK

Understanding Seems to be That Little Except Appropriation Measures Will be Enacted by This Session.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 24.—With its work approximately half completed, the special session of the legislature which met Monday to re-enact in different form the state appropriation measures knocked out by the supreme court's recent decision on the Fergus case, recessed shortly after noon today for Thanksgiving with all indications pointing to sine die adjournment next week.

Practically all of the state appropriation measures, and several of the Chicago financial bills, were passed by the senate today and will be acted upon by the house next week when it reconvenes Monday evening. The senate adjourned today with the understanding that it will not meet again until called by the president.

When the lawmakers left the capital the general understanding seemed to be that little except appropriation measures would be enacted by this session. Four bills validating future transfer of public funds in Chicago from one corporate fund to another in comformance with the Sergel suit decision, were passed by the senate. A bill to increase Chicago's tax rate was defeated and one to increase the Cook county tax rate was not acted upon and may not be called up again.

Governor Dunne today declined to say whether he would call a supplemental extra-ordinary session to consider foot and mouth appropriation and bills to validate a good roads bond issue in Cook county and to establish an efficiency and economy commission as asked for in a resolution offered in the house this week. However, the governor is said to look with favor upon another session for the validating of tht good roads bond issue. eH will take no action, it was said, until the resolution is formally adopted and presented to him.

It was conceded today that there will be no primary election legislation at this session. The Ettelson primary bill was not called up for action in the senate today and it was said it probably will be alowed to die.

PRESIDENT WILSON ISSUES APPEAL

Calls On People to Renew Efforts to Alleviate Suffering in Europe

RED CROSS FUNDS SMALL

Executive States Organization is Nearing the Exhaustion of Its Resources

LESS THAN $50,000 AVAILABLE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. — A Thanksgiving appeal to Americans in the comfort of plenty to renew their efforts to alleviate suffering thruout Europe's vast war area by contributions to the Red Cross was issued tonight by President Wilson. Under the caption "an appeal" it says:

Harvest of Death Not Ended.

"The day is at hand on which we bend our thoughts toward a consideration of the blessings of peace and security. Inevitably the contemplation of our own good fortune must bring sharply to mind the anguish and loss which lie, an intolerable and crushing burden upon the bodies and souls of our neighbors across the seas. Our country has poured out generously its sympathy and its means in behalf of those who suffer because of the war. But the harvest of death and esolation is not ended and our sympathy must not yet withdraw its hand.

"Tht American Red Cross thru whose instrumentality hundreds of thousands of our people have been enabled to give substantial expression to their pity for those who have fallen under he stroke of war, is nearing the exhaustion of its resources. Into its war relief fund it has received in round sum $1,600,000. In the sending and maintaining of nearly four hundred surgeons, nurses and sanitarians, who have carried American skill into all the zone of war, in financial aid for the hospitals and other red cross institutions and in the purchase and transportation of nearly 4,000,000 pounds of hospital and medical supplies and equipment, this sum has been reduced to less than $50,000 now available to meet the great demands of the approaching winter.

Assurance is Urgent.

"That the splendid work of this organization, which more than any other, represents the sympathy of us all, should be permitted to cease, is unthinkable. I therefore earnestly call upon the people of the United states once again by their generosity to assure the Red Cross against the curtailment or discontinurance of the large activities in which it is engaged. That this assurance is urgent is shown by the comparative small sum remaining in its treasury, a sum which, however, closely it may be husbanded will suffice for but a few weeks.

"Contributions may be forwarded to any state or local treasurer of the ed cross or to the national headquarters, Washington, D. C.

"Woodrow Wilson."

"To die with honor when one can no longer live with honor".

RELATIONS SHOW BIG IMPROVEMENT

Greece Will Not Interfere With Allied Troops Entering Her Territory

MILITARY SIDE GRAVER

Teutonic Troops Operating in Three Columns, Enter Kossovo Plain and Occupy Mitrovitza

SERBS AT A DISADVANTAGE

LONDON, Nov. 24.—There has been a distinct improvement in the diplomatic relations between Greece and the entente powers, following the presentation of a collective note by the representative of the allies. The Greek premier is reportd to have stated that while Greece put forward theroretical objections to allied troops entering Greek territory and using as a victualling base she would not raise a finger against them.

Allies Wait for Guarantee.

All that the allies are now waiting for is a guarantee that Greece will carry out this assurance.

On the military side on the other hand, especially so far as the Serbian northern army is concerned, the situation has grown graver. Austro-German and Bulgarian troops operating in three separate columns, have entered Kossovo plain where the Serbians were expected to make their last stand and have occupied Minrovitza, the latest Serbian capital as well as Pristinia and at one point at least have driven the Serbians across the Sitnica river.

Serbians at a Disadvantage.

Altho the Serbians might make a stand between the valley and the Albanian and Montenegrin frontiers they will be at a disadvantage owing to their inability to get munitions and supplies, while their opponents virtually will have everything they require.

The Serbians on the Katchanik front and also in the southwest corner of their country continue to hold back the invaders, as do the Anglo-French forces in the southwest.

The Russians are reported to have prepared an army of 350,000 for operations in the Balkans, but the point at which they will strike has not been indicated.

Gorizia Is Rendered Untenable.

While the allies are showing renewed activity in Gallipoli the most important engagements are taking place on the Austro-Italian front and while Gorizia has not yet fallen it has been rendered untenable, a fate which, likewise, appears to be awaiting Riva, in the Trentino. The situation at Riva has come within range of the Italian guns. President Not Free.

In his speech to the Manhattan Club at New York the President again complained that he does not feel free to express his opinions as other men can. In view of the radical change which has come over his expression of opinion regarding national defense within the past eleven months, his querulousness seems hardly well-founded. However, let him cheer up. After sixteen months he will be at liberty to talk as freely and as volubly as ex-Presidents Roosevelt and Taft.

Is He a Cheerful Convert?

A year ago Wilson referred to the advocates of national defense as "some among us who are nervous and excited." Has he now joined the company? He has reason to be "nervous and excited," that is plain; because the indications are that no one of his original policies meets with public approval, and the people are by no means likely to regard his shifted opinions now as altogether dissociated from consideration of his own political necessities.

Treasury Balances.

Twice since he has been at the head of the Treasury Department, Secretary McAdoo has changed the method of making the daily treasury statement so that it shows a larger net balance than it would show under methods previously in use. But even this has not proven a sufficient remedy for the depleting effects of Democratic legislation. Mr. McAdoo's own statements show that during the week ending November 12 the net balance dropped almost $10,000,000. It will take a lot of scheming to study out bookkeeping stunts that will cover up a record like that.

Minister's Son in Jail.

"You humble me to the dust. I did not take you for so weak minded and egregious an ass."

Thus Rev. Julius Nickel of Welga addressed his son, L. R. Nickel, alias Harry Holmes, held in Springfield on the charge of passing a worthless check for $25

The letter which contained these words and which is now in the hands of the police ends, "I had been fool enough to believe that you had lately been guided by some religious principle. In deep sorrow, Father."

The letter was addressed to Nickel in care of a local hotel. The police believe that it was in response to a letter sent by the young man to his father asking for money to square the $25 check.

In 1916.

The Democratic National Committee is without a secretary and a considerable number of its members want to discharge the chairman. But the committee does not lack a humorist. He is the gentleman who composed the official comment of the committee on this year's election results. They mean merely, said this document, that the Progressives and the Republican are reunited. Nothing more is needed to assure Republican victory in 1916. Wilson received the electoral vote of forty-one States in 1912 and had 435 votes in the electoral college. He had a majority support in only fourteen states with 152 electoral votes. In the other thirty-four states the combined Republican and Progressive strength far outnumbered the Democracy, and Wilson won by a plurality. The reunion of the Progressives and Republicans in 1916 is made certain by the elections of 1914 and 1915, and means that Wilson will have his fourteen states—the solid south—and no more.

Exports.

During the first eight months of 1913, when a Republican tariff law was in force, we exported to Germany goods to the value of $184,400,000. In 1914, under the present Democratic tariff law, we exported, for the corresponding eight months, goods to the value of $136,000,000. oday the only gateways to Germany are Holland, Norway and Sweden. To these three countries in 1913, first eight months, we exported goods to the value of $101,000,000, in 1914, $83,000,000, while for 1915 they rose to $198,000,000. Secretary Redfield would have you believe this great increase in 1915 was due to the admirable efforts of the Department of Commerce to get foreign trade, but he ignores the fact of a falling off of $31,000,000 of exports to Germany in 1914, below the previous year, or of $18,000,000 to Holland, Norway and Sweden. Probably the American public is just as wise to the situation as is Great Britain.

Let's Get Together.

A protest has been filed by the Village of South Jacksonville with the Illinois utility commission asking that the street railway be prevented from hauling coal cars over its line thru South Jacksonville. The protest does not give specific reasons why the proposal is considered especially objectionable.

The plan to haul coal over the street railway for delivery to Jacksonville state hospital and the gas plant was projected particularly for the purpose of saving the new pavement on South Main street from the heavy haulage which in the past has aided very materially in wearing it out. The movement was for the benefit of the people at large, and it is to be hoped that the trustees of South Jacksonville can be brought to change their point of view and to join heartily in the movement. A good pavement on South Main will help both thec ity and the village.

A conference of the village officials and others officially interested in the project should be held at some early date. As a rule when a company of men get together to consider a problem of this kind they can thresh out the details in a satisfactory way and come to a settlement, and this would probably be the case if a conference on the matter is called soon. Coal or other freight designed for the two plants mentioned would not average more than three or four cars a day and the arrangements could easily be made to have the hauling done at such hours that no possible injury to the public would result.

The only reason for not making switch connections with the C. & A. on Illinois avenue near East State street is because it would be impossible to haul freight cars around the sharp curves adjoining the public square. A switch near Illinois avenue would be much better than on the Vandalia road because it would give connection with all the railroads, whereas the switch proposed would connect only with the Chicago & Alton. Anything which can be done to save street paving from heavy traffic and thus giving it longer life, should be heartily concurred in.

Student's Lack of Knowledge.

To test the general knowledge of junior and senior students at the University of Minnesota college of education, a list of fifty questions covering a rather wide range was submitted, and many of the answers, just made public by officials of the university, are creating considerable merriment.

William Jennings Bryan is now President of the United States, Mary Pickford recently was shot to death by German officials after being convicted of espionage, Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson are among living former presidents, A. P. Eberhart is governor of Minnesota, and St. Paul received the ten commandments, according to answers submitted to Raymond A. Kent, assistant professor of education, who conducted the test.

Three students declared Sherman is Vice President of the United States one gave Fairbanks the honor, and still another had Secretary of State Lansing holding that office.

Much confusion was encountered in attempting to locate the "Golden Horn," some students placing it on Wall street and others fixing the location near Gibraltar.

A few answers gave Edison credit for inventing the telegraph, and in fixing the temperature of the normal body figures ran from 60 to 110 degrees. Also there was a wide diversity of opinion as to the correspondIng weight of ice and water.

One question put to the students was to name the motto of the United States, and this brought forth interesting answers, which included, "United We Stand, Divided We Fall," In God We Trust," "Union Forever," and "Millions for Defense, but not One Cent for Tribute—In God We Trust."

AN INTERESTING BOOK.

Before her death Miss Clara Barton, the famous nurse and philanthropist, made Rev. Percy Epler, formerly of this city, her literary executor and placed in his care voluminous manuscripts and letters pertaining to her life and Mr. Epler, now of Worcester, Mass., has written a book of some 500 pages embodying the best of the matter in his possession. It is published by the great house of MacMillan & Co. and will doubtless have a large sale. Miss Barton lectured before the Phi Alpha society in this city about 1867 and gave an interesting account of her wonderful work. Mr. Epler's book is admirably written.

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON

The sun of peace serenely shines upon our figtrees and our vines, the justly famous dove, that blood-tired climes are sighing for, its pinions all unstained by war, is fluttering above. Your home, perhaps, is plain and poor, but in it you may dwell secure, and rest when evening comes; no howling foes approach your door, insisting on three quarts of gore, and death to sound of drums. You milk the cow and gather eggs, and no one shoots you in the legs, or prods you with a spear; war racks old Europe's weary strand, war stalks in almost every land, but Peace abideth here. All other benisons and boons seem cheaper than a dish of prunes, beside this mighty fact, that we have peace while others slay, and find upon our right of way no grisly dead men stacked. The groaning barns and bursting mows, abundant crops and fertile cows, for which wt render thanks, the rolls of butter we have churned, the mortgage that we lately burned, the money in the banks—all these are sordid things for which to send up anthems grand and rich in ecstasy of praise; the dove of peace, the milk-white dove, that flutters this fair land above, 'tis that enchants our days.

JULIAN FRISBIE IS CHOSEN CAPTAIN

WILL LEAD ILLINOIS FOOTBALL TEAM IN 1916.

Former Springfield High Player Honored by Team Mates at Election Yesterday—Athletic Board Control Awards Football "I's" to Sixteen Players—Football Banquet Dec. 11.

Julian Frisbie, right tackle on the Illinois College state championship football team, was chosen yesterday morning by his teammates to captain the 1916 team. Frisbie has just completed his third year on the team, playing thruout at right tackle in which position he has been a wonderful player. He enjoys the distinction of having been chosen as a member of the All-Conference eleven at the close of the three seasons by practically every coach in the Association. Frisbie posssesses qualities of leadership which fit him especially well for the captaincy.

Award "I's" to Sixteen.

The Athletic Board of Control met Tuesday evening and awarded the official football "I" to sixteen players who have fulfilled the necessary requirements as specified in the constiution of the Association. A man must have played in at least five regular games and be ready and willing to play in the last game of the season.

Dean Hayden, as has been customary awarded the emblems at the regular student meeting and as each player stepped forward to receive his coveted letter the student body gave him a great ovation. The following men were rewarded: Captain Fred Stewart, Ernest Alford, John Karch; John Mitchell, Julian Frisbie, Hansel Wilson, Warren Pierce, William Russel, Herman Helmle, Oscar Thiebaud, Bryce Whisler, Owen Jones, Oscar Zink, Ray Wilson, Thomas Mangner and Victor Mellor. Lucius L. Smith was awarded the manager's "I" in recognition of his services to the team. TREASURY BALKS ON BUYING BUILDING SITES

Senators and Congressmen Eager for Conflict and Will Support Policy of Secretary McAdoo.

Washington, Nov. 24.—It is on the cards that the Treasury Department and Congress wil go to grips on the issue of public building sites during the coming winter. Many senators and congressmen are eager to reform the program and will support Secretary McAdo in his efforts to do so. Many others—whether a majority of the whole remains to be seen—are tdetermined to fight for their pound of pork. Many a congressman wins his election on getting a chunk of money for a new postoffice or an having one built for which his predecessor had secured the authorization. The senators, as a rule, back up their congressmen, for they are faced on one side with their own constituents, and on the other with nothing more than a Treasury official with economical ideas. The country as a whole, no doubt, would support the Treasury department on the general business priciple involved, which is simply that of spending money only where business warrants. But Congress votes by sections on things like appropriation bills, and however high-minded a statesman might be in a matter of moral principle, he feels that an exception must be made in favor of his own home town.

If he lacked any of the makings for a first-class combat with Congress over public buildings, Secretary McAdoo secured the desired materials during his recent trip to the Pacific Coast. The Treasury department need not go outside its own books to learn the story of uncounted millions extravagantly expended by log-rolling statesmen for the glory of themselves and their constituents, nevertheless the most ardent champion of the pork barrel might have been impressed by the discovery of a post office site costing nearly $170,000, under eight feet of salt water. This nautical curosity was visited in the city of Seattle. The Secretary did not actually see the site, however because the tide was in; but he learned that even should the government retain the "land"—as a matter of fact it has cancelled the site—it would cost about $20,000 a year for the transportation of mail from the post office building to the main part of the city.

Of authorizations amounting to $58,000,000 in the public buildin appropriation bill of 1913, the government stands to waste between twenty five and thirty millions, in the opinion of the Treasury officials. The total authorizations numbered more than 300 and only about a hundred have been bought. Most of the remainder are regarded by treasury officials as unnecessary or extravagant. Nevertheless Congress has not only authorized but directed the purchase of these sites for federal buildings, and the Treasury department, altho it may take its own time in the process has no option but to spend the money.

It is difficult if not impossible to place responsibility for the exceedingly unbusinesslike situation relative to federal buildings. Indeed the present conditions are in a measure the result of a natural growth. Originally the large Eastern cities, which were the centers of population were supplied with federal buildings. The cities were well supplied until the country began to grow. Then, as towns became cities and the westward movement spread, the congressmen from the country districts began to get in their work. Beginning with the omnibus appropriation bill of 1896, not less than $176,000,000 has been appropriated for federal buildings, chiefly in country towns and cities. The great metropolitan centers have been forgotten, as it were, while the country was getting its share.

There has been nothing unnatural in this general scheme, except that the cities of Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Richmond and many others have been allowed to rest with the buildings they originally had. Now these buildings are entirely inadequate. Chicago, for example, originates almost half of the parcel post business of the country. Its postal business for four months would pay completely for a new postoffice, land and all. The bill of 1913, however, contains some 45 authorizations for cities and towns in Illinois outside Chicago, and it is doubtful whether the postal receipts of all put together would even pay the cost of maintenance of the Federal buildings authorized.

Columbus, O., Nov. 24.—Dewey Hanes of Arcanum, Drake county, Ohio, is the champion boy corn-grower of Ohio. He raised 153.76 bushels of corn on one acre this year in the juvenile contest conducted by the state board of agriculture and as a reward for his labors will make a trip thru the east on board the Buckeye Corn Boys' Special train with his expenses paid by the state of Ohio. Other winners in the contest are Erwin Neiding of Vermilion, Loraine county, with 143.12 bushels; Russell Shifley of Bucyrus, Crawford county, with 130.06 bushels and Dewey Goddard, Amesville, Athens county with 124.08 bushels.

About a hundred youths who won county corn growing contests will make the trip with their expenses paid by their counties or organizations interested in agriculture. The annual tour of the Buckeye Corn Boys will start next Monday. Stops will be made at Washington, New York, Philadelphia and other eastern points.

Hog Cholera.

What shall be done about it? Shall we go ahead as now and allow every farmer to be his own sanitary officer and do his own police work so far as his own farm is concerned? Is hog cholera a menace to the livestock industry of the state and nation? Shall the state and the federal governments continue to do nothing except investigate and give advice? Our veterinarians have shown us that they can control foot and mouth disease, reputed to be several times more contagious than hog cholera. Can they not control hog cholera? Is a disease that kills ninety per cent or more of an unprotected herd that it attacks not worth every inch of fighting we can give it? What do you think about it? What are you, as a farmer, willing to do? An Illinois county adviser told us the other day that in talking with a farmer whose herds had ben infected he told him that a sufficient number of actual tests had been made with vaccination in that county to demonstrate its efficacy in the control of cholera without the shadow of a shade of a doubt. The farmer said it was a derned prevarication, or words to that effect, "for", said he, "if that is true the government would require every hog owner to vaccinate his hogs and so we would stop our losses of thousands and thousands of dollars." Why temporize with such a serious disease if we are able to control it. We will publish before many weeks some very sensible suggestions on hog cholera from a well known veterinarian. In the meantime let us hear from you who own the hogs as to what you think about it. Let's stop theorizing. Let's do some fighting. The man who has lost two or three years' profits thru cholera this year won't need any urging to shoulder a syringe and face the enemy that has been killing our hogs.—The Farmers' Review, Chicago.

Louis Maul of Arcadia precinct has eighty acres of land and says there is good money to be made on a farm of that size if a man will attend to it right and intelligently. He doesn't feed a great deal of stock and husks his corn without cutting it and then cuts the stalks small and plows them under always in the fall if possible. Burying them well under the ground makes a fine fertilizer for the land and leaves it in good shape in the spring. He regards burning corn stalks very wasteful to say the least and feels it it robbing the land of its due. He has a good crop of corn this year; one which will average sixty to sixty-five bushels to the acre. He uses a large yellow variety, not the Reid Yellow Dent. In the spring he discs and pulverizes and takes great care to get a good seed bed which he regards as all important to the welfare of the crop and to get ahead of the weeds. Like other successful farmers he runs his cultivators deep the first part of the season and more and more shallow later on. He seldom if ever has corn on a field more than twice in succession and then he changes it with oats and wheat. This year he had 24 acres of wheat that averaged 38 bushels to the acre. He plants the smooth head Red Wave variety which he likes best. He had good luck with his crop and managed to get it threshed from the shock and saved in good time. He says close, careful farming on a smaller place will be found fully as profitable as an attempt to handle a great amount of land and not cultivate it so carefully.

A. D. Gaston of Carter, in the southern part of the state, is visiting friends in the city. The gentleman has charge of 100 acres of apple orchard and 75 of pears. The apple crop with him this year was quite good though not equal to that of some other years. His trees are mostly Ben Davis and Minkler varieties and the land is a part of the Fairbanks holdings. The pears are of the Graber and Keifer varieties but were a failure this year owing to something like twig blight. He shipped 23 cars of apples and the cars held from 160 to 218 barrels each. He had a neighbor who had something more than a hundred acres of orchard and who shipped out 65 cars of fruit. He says the Ben Davis generally meets with a ready sale.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective.

They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

PROFESSOR PROVES THAT SPACE ABSORBS LIGHT

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 24.—Proof of the unprovable, of the infiiiteness of space, has perhaps been advanced a stage or two by studies of the absorption of light in space, which Prof. Edward S. King has been making at the Harvard observatory. This very fundamental research, carried on during several years, has now reached finality so far as the particular stars are concerned whose color relationships Prof. Knight has investigated.

He believes that his point has been conclusively established: that of two stars otherwise practically identical in character the more distant one is the redder, indicating that the blue rays have been cut off to a greater extent in the passage of light across space.

This phenomenon, it is urged, may be taken as proof positive that a medinum exists that absorbs light in at least this part of the universe. One of the accomplishments of this particular study of light is to render it more improbable than ever before that man's eyes will ever see the outer limits, even if such should exist, of the visible universe. There may be live-bearing planets like our own whirling around suns so distant from ours that no beam of reddish light can ever get thru the intervening dust-filled abysses.

The cold, hard mathematical proof which Prof. King has set forth is, of course, especially interesting to the layman for its apparent confirmation of the newer mode of viewing the distribution of matter. There evidently exists, from this viewpoint, a very complete circulation of matter thruout the universe. The meteoric dust that comes sifting down thru our atmosphere today is a compound not only of the substances of our own sun but of many other suns, some of them hundreds of light years away. Even the fain light that reaches us from star clusters invisible to the naked eye is all the time hurling hitherward tiny corpusles of the very stuff our world and ourselves are made from. This conception of a universe that has no compartments and no voids, no unlighted corners, and, tho the mind fails to comprehend it, no metes and bounds has received rather remarkable confirmation from the Harvard observatory.

FIGHT TO PREVENT SLICING BOSTON COMMON.

Boston, Nov. 24.—The traditions of the famous Boston Common, together with the historical events that make it so dear to the resident of the Hub, will be brought in as heavy arguments by the opponents of the proposal to shave the edges of the historic ground to make room for present-day travel, when the Street Commissioners hold their public hearing today. The cutting of a single inch from the Common will be fought tooth and nail regardless of the need of street widening. The suggestion made by the street board is to cut strips on the Tremont, Park and Boylston street sides, to meet the demand of increased traffic.

FEDERAL RESERVE CHANGES.

It is reported from Washington that members of the Federal Reserve Board have asked the opinion of the attorney general as to the power of the board to abolish any of the regional banks. It is surmised that some members favor abolishing one or two of them. Secretary McAdoo is said to oppose such action. Notwithstanding general evidence of harmony, it has been suspected from the first that the appointive members of the board have resented the apparent attempt of the ex-officio members, Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams to dominate. The members won their first victory when the attorney general gave an opinion that the board was independent of the Treasury Department and not a bureau under it.

LOUISVILLE WIFE SLAYER ON TRIAL.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 24—John M. Lockhart, aged 47, for twenty years government locktender on the Louisville and Portland canal, was placed on trial today for the murder of his wife. He is haggard and worn and seems indifferent to his fate. Lockhart shot and killed his wife, Ida M. Lockhart, on Fifth street, last month, as she emerged from the Inter-Southern Building. She had gone to consult her attorney, following a separation from her husband. She had told her counsel that she would postpone her divorce libel, because her husband had threatened her life if she sought a divorce.

The shooting occurred at the noon hour, when the streets were filled with pedestrians, and created intense excitement. Lockhart fired two shots with his revolver to his wife's face, and she fell dead. He then ran into the street to evade passers-by, and tried to end his own life by firing twice at his head. In his excitement, both shosts missed fire, and the police surrounded and captured him.

RELATIVES OF MILLIONAIRE TRY TO BALL CUPID.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 24—Arguments will be heard today on the petition of relations of Henry Denniston, millionaire Pittsburg recluse, who seek to have a guardian appointed to look after his estate. The recluse is 76 years old, and he is engaged to wed a woman considerably younger than himself. Evidence as to the capability of the aged millionaire to handle his own affairs has been given in court, and Judge Miller has privately examined the recluse.

FURS FOR SOLDIERS.

Not content with their efforts on behalf of the British troops the Canadian women have taken up the task of providing furs for the Italian soldiers who face a winter campaign in the frigid altitude of the Alps. They appeal to men and women alike to contribute their share of furs. "This winter," the appeal says, "no woman could be so egotistically callous as to place her feet on a soft skin rug, no man could keep an extra fur coat, or one which is out of date, if he thinks of the soldier brother who is fighting up there in the ice laden blizzard above the snow line." The appeal will doubtless meet with a response that will cheer the hearts and keep the bodies of the Italian soldiers among the snow capped mountains warm.

MRS. KATE HAXTON IS RELEASED FROM COUNTY JAIL

Prayer of Attorney Paul Samuell Granted in Appellate Court—Appeal Taken from County Court.

Attorney Paul Samuell, who made an effort a few days ago to have Kate Haxton released from jail on the grounds that she was in bad health on Wednesday received an order from the appellate court in vacation granting his prayer and Mrs. Haxton was released under bond in the sume of $200.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Haxton was convicted on the charge of selling liquor in Anti-Saloon territory and was sentenced to jail. Mr. Samuell was her atorney and sought to have her released at a hearing before Judge W. E. Thomson in the county court on Monday Nov. 15. Judge Thomson denied the petition. Attorney Samuell then prepared his transcript and took the case to the appellate court.

It will be remembered that at the time the case came up in the county court two physicians testified. Dr. George Stacey gave expert testimony in Mrs. Haxton's case and Dr. W. H. Weirich also testified as to Mrs. Haxton's physical condition. Judge Thomson denied the pethition. Attorney Samuell then went to the appellate court with a write of supercedeas. He received his order Wednesday afternoon and presented it to the sheriff and upon the filing of bond in the sum of $200. Mrs. Haxton was released. The appellate court will later take up the merits of the case and make a definite decision in the matter. Attorney Samuell was much pleased with the outcome of the case when seen Wednesday evening. Mr. Samuell said that while he did not wish to make any statement in the matter that he was confident that if the case was taken to a higher court that he would get a favorable decision.

E PERTS OF NATION CONFER ON HOOF AND MOUTH DISEASE

Chicago, Nov. 24.—The first national conference of experts in cattle diseases will be held here tomorrow and Saturday, under the auspices of the Federal department of agriculture, to decide on plans to wipe out the hoof and mouth disease. The government, many states where the recent epidemic was felt, as well as the packers, stock yards, breeders associations and other interests concerned with cattle raising will be represented.

It is confidently believed by government officials who have gathered here to attend the conference that it is now possible to make rules under which a repetition of a national epidemic will be impossible. Uniform rules will be enforced thruout the country, if the government experts have their way. It is aimed to eliminate interference by local authorities, by bringing all sections of the country into harmony with the enforcement of regulations.

FROM THE EDUCATOR'S NOTEBOOK.

Pittsburg, Pa.—The fifteenth anniversary of the founding of the Carnegie Institution of Technology is being celebrated today and tomorrow at the Institute. Many educational leaders have come for the exercises, representing all phases of industrial and technical training. Today's feature is a visit to the Institute under escort of the faculty, and the classes will be observed in operation. Tomorrow there will be a procession, in which the guests will be escorted by faculty and students, and formal exercises will be held. Dr. Henry S. Pritchett will make a speech on Andrew Carnegie, the venerable philanthropist, who will reach his eightieth birthday this week.

New York—The report that the famous University of Warsaw has been reopened by the German government officials since the fall of that famous Polish city is confirmed by information received here. There are three faculties—law and political science, philosophy and history, and mathematics and natural sciences. The institution which is thus reopened, was one of the seats of learning in Europe for a period of several centuries. The downfall of the Polish nation and its separation into states in Russia, Germany and Austria brought ruin to the national university. One of the most pleasing deeds that the Germans could carry out, in view of their desire to gain the good will of the Russian Poles, is the revival of this famous university.

Washington.—The movement to replace the so-called funny sheets which are used as attractions for the children by the daily and Sunday papers, by industrial art features of constructive and educational character, is endorsed by Commissioner of Education Claxton. The idea is to give the children something to do, to work out, and to inculcate thought and activity in children. The plan has been endorsed by many educators and children's aid societies. Dr. Charles W. Eliot of Harvard once said: "As I have seen more and more education during my professional career, I have come more and more firmly to the conclusion that the most effective kind of education is obtained at every stage, not by listening and reading, but by observing, comparing and doing. "The alleged 'comics' may soon be displaced in many large newspapers by industrial art pages, which will furnish something to be built by the children, something that will require the using of ingenuity and thought, with satisfactory effects that will please the youthful mind.

New York—The association of students with their professors in the various branches of scientific research is a growing tendency and the attitude of such men as Professor Mitchael I. Pupin of Columbia, who also holds the office of consul-general from Servia in the United States, is notable in this direction. In a recent communication, Prof. Pupin names Edwin Armstrong, one of his former students, as a close associate in electrical research for two years, declaring that the student shares with him equally the credit for perfecting "the means of solving the problem of static interference in wireless transmission". The recent inventions of Prof. Pupin with their far-reaching results are no less satisfactory than the fact that this teacher is carrying along with him in his researches a fine body of graduate students whom he is training especially to advance and enlarge his scientific work.

Albuquerque, N. M.—The state university of New Mexico claims the distinction of having the largest proportion of self-supporting students of any university in the country. The total enrollment is 192, of which number 116 are men and 76 are women. Few of the women contribute to their own support, but the men 53, or over 45 per cent, are paying all or a considerable part of their own university expenses. Another interesting phase of the enroliment, due to the recent development of the state and of the university, is the fact that only 37 of the students were born in the state. The others are natives of 34 other states and four foreign countries.

THE WINTER OF GREAT DISTRESS

Damp and cold weather is destined to cause much suffering among Rheumatics. Guard Against it.

Get ready for winter by realizing that Rheumatism is a blood disease and must be relieved through the blood. Throw away the liniments and lotions, cut out the pain killers and stake your chances of relief on S. S. S. Some of the most renowned physicians that the world has ever known have been studying Rheumatism for fifty years in the laboratories of the Swift Specific Company in Atlanta, and if Rheumatism can be permanently relieved—and WE KNOW THAT IT CAN—they will tell you what to do for your trouble.

Rubbing with liniments, blistering, the application of plasters; in fact, anything that will produce counter-irritation, is good for external treatment of Rheumatism, but these simple remedies do not reach the seat of the disease nor touch the real cause, and relief is therefore only temporary.

Rheumatism is due to Uric Acid and other irritant poisons in the blood, and as it circulates through the system, these acid poisons are deposited in the muscles, joints and nerves, and exposure to the night air, cold east winds, or any sudden change in the weather, will bring on an attack which may last for a few days or linger for months. Every battle with Rheumatism leaves the blood in poorer condition, while the corroding acids are gradually consuming the oils and fluids that lubricate the muscles and joints, thus they become stiff, sometimes absolutely rigid.

Rheumatism with its sharp cutting pains canont be conquered until the acid blood is cleansed, purified, literally washed free of the poisoned substances which it contains, and nothing affords such prompt and lasting relief as S. S. S. The tonic effects of this vegetable remedy are wonderful. The blood is cleansed, purified and its early strength and vigor renewed, causing the health to rapidly improve and builds up the entire system. The sufferer is not only free from Rheumatic pains, but experiences once more the thrill and exquisite pleasure of perfect health.

Get rid of Rheumatism before cold weather makes it worse. Don't take substitutes for S. S. S. Write our Medical Department at once; they want to advise you how to relieve Rheumatism quickly, thoroughly and make you well. S. S. S. sold at all drug stores. Don't accept substitutes—they are dangerous. Write the Swift Specific Company, Medical Department, Room 16, Atlanta, Ga.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

LACK OF EXPORT DEMAND PUTS WHEAT VALUES ON DOWNGRADE

Praices at One Time Show a Vigorous Rally, But Did Not Prove of a Lasting Sort — Corn Trading Broadens.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—Lack of export demand put wheat values today most of the time on the down grade. Quotations finished nervous ¼@⅜c to ½c net lower with Dec. at $1.03¾ and May at $1.06@1.06⅛; corn closes ⅜c to ⅝@1c up, oats with a gain of ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅝c and provisions unchanged to 22½c higher.

Wheat prices showed at one time a vigorous rally but the strength appeared to develop almost entirely in response to a bulge in the corn market and did not prove of a lasting sort.

Complaint from the southwest that stocks were piling up seemed to form a sufficient cause for renewed weakness that prevailed in the final hour of the session.

Corn trading broadened notably and prices went to new high records for the season.

Oats were governed almost entirely by corn. During the upturns Iowa oats sold freely to arrive.

Provisions made some sharp upturns and showed unusual activity among buyers, a large number of whom however were shorts. To a great degree the advance appeared to be the result of higher prices for cottonseed oil.

APPROACHING HOLIDAY AFFORDS EXCUSE FOR A DULL SESSION

Trading, However, Is Well in Excess of Tuesday's Small Output.

New York, Nov. 24.—The approaching holiday afforded an excuse if not an actual reason for another dull session of the stock exchange altho trading was well in excess of yesterday's small output.

Cuban-American sugars advance of 8¾c to 150 established a new high price for that stock while South Porto Rico sugar rose 5¼ to 135½.

War issues were not materially affected by the initimation that the allies might cease further purchases of munitions in this market. Some of these stocks advanced 1 to 3½ points; the greatest gain being made by Crucible steel preferred as a result of a renewal of dividends. Baldwin Locomotive sold off toward the close on failure of the directors to declare a dividend on the common stock.

Stocks like Sears-Roebuck, Woolworth and May department stores were 2 to 5 points higher; also North American, United Fruit, Pittsburgh Coal preferred and Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke. Rails were irregular during the early session, chiefly because of the pesistent pressure against New Haven which fell 2⅝ to 75⅜ but later pronounced improvement was manifest.

There was steady absorption of United States steel at a fractional rise but Bethelehem Steel was again without quotation, except for an occasional odd lot. Total sales amounted to 480,000 shares.

Coffee Talk, No. 12

America's Cup, America's Cup, America's Cup, America's Cup, America's Cup, America's Cup, America's Cup,

Your Grocer can supply you with a pound of America's Cup

If he hasn't it, and doesn't show any signs of getting it, then it might be a good idea to turn to some more obliging grocer who will take care of your wants.

Of course, no grocer can keep everything — he can't even keep "America's Cup" after a few of his customers learn he has it in stock! It will melt from his shelves like ice in August. So, for your good, and his, too, bring every influence to bear to urge him to order a case of

America's Cup

In this series of talks I have tried to prove to you that "America's Cup" is not "just coffee"—it's a special blend that is packed with the special view of affording you a coffee that can be safely used in the home—day in and day out. If I have done that, then I have done well, and I have every faith in the coffee itself to sustain the conviction I have implanted.

Anything further that you or your grocer may wish to learn about "America's Cup" can be found out by addressing.

THANKSGIVING OBSERVANCES MADE IN WAVERLY AND VICINITY

Union Service This Morning at the Christian Church—High School Society Program—Other Waverly Topics.

Thanksgiving was observed in the grade schools of Waverly Wednesday, in the rendition of a program by the Washingtonian society of the high school yesterday afternoon and this morning union Thanksgiving services will be held at the Christian church at 10 o'clock, with the Rev. Sidney M. Bedford, pastor of the church, in charge. Following is the order of exercises:

Anthem by the choir.

Scripture lesson—Rev. Fred R. Johnson of the Baptist church.

Hymn by the congregation.

Prayer—Rev. F. E. Smith, Waverly M. E. church.

Offering for benevolence.

Anthem by the choir.

Sermon, "Paying Our Debt of Gratitude"—Rev. Sidney M. Bedford.

Prayer—Rev. N. R. Johnson, Waverly Methodist church.

Hymn, "America"—The Congregation.

Benediction—Rev. L. M. Holp, Congregational church.

Rev. Mr. Bedford will take as his text three Scriptural references, Luke 16-5, "How Much Owest Thou Unto My Lord", and Matthew 18-28, "Pay What Thou Owest", answered by a quotation from Ephesians 5-20, "Give Thanks Always for All Things". Special anthems have been prepared by the choir, and under the leadership of Miss Jessie Ritter some excellent music is promised.

The Washingtonian Program.

Much interest was occasioned by the Washingtonian society program given Wednesday afternoon at the high school building, the pupils entering into the occasion with true Thanksgiving spirit. Warren Moffett, president of the society, was in the chair, and Miss Lucille Swift read the secretary's report and called the following numbers:

Recitation, "Thanksgiving Day"—Miss Lillie Campbell.

Selection from Edward Everett's oration, "Sufferings and Destiny of the Pilgrims"—Miss Ethel Carter.

Music by the Victrola.

Reading, "De Circus Turkey"—Miss Edna Moffett.

The principal attraction of the program was a one-act scene from Longfellow's "Courtship of Miles Standish", in which the part of the hero was taken by Zelah Crowell. Ocran McKee played the role of John Alden, and Dana Crowell took the part of Priscilla, with Mary Frances Parker serving as narrator.

Following the play Miss Lillian Hood read the society paper and some excellent music was given by the high school quartet. The subject for debate was, "Resolved, that the world owes more to navigation than to railroads". Rolland Gray and Miss Marie Taylor were the affirmative debaters and Miss Madetaine Ashbaugh and Helen Crain upheld the negative. The program was concluded by report of the critics, decision of the judges and a song by the school.

Good Athletic Prospects.

With announcement of the basket ball schedule, the record of a well played football season and prospects for continuation of athletics next spring on the track, the standing of Waverly high school in matters athletic is one of growing importance and much enthusiasm was shown by the students Wednesday morning when talks were made on football and the general athletic situation, and the thirteen "W's" were awarded this season's players.

Edward Swift has gone to Kentucky and expects on his return to Waverly to bring with him substantial prizes on his exhibit of Rhode Island Whites at a poultry show at Louisville. Mr. Swift has won prizes on his poultry at the Panama-Pacific exposition and was winner of the second award in the National Egg-laying contest held recently in Mountain Grove, Mo.

Automobile traffic thru Waverly since the opening of the Springfield division of the Burlington Way has increased to an extent hardly realized by many people, and the trade gains reported by merchants and garage men are by no means inconsiderable. As has before been mentioned, oiling has been completed thru the town and money will be forthcoming to extend the oiling at the opening of spring, it is asserted by those in touch with road affairs. It is the intention to oil thru to the county line, and that portion of the Burlington Way for which Waverly is responsible bids fair to become one of the best stretches of the entire route.

Some Thanksgiving Visitors.

Mrs. C. M. Duer and Miss Anna Duer of Divernon, are making a Thanksgiving visit at the home of F. H. Wemple.

Mrs. Harriet Melton and Miss Georgie Melton of Jacksonville are visiting the sister of the former, Mrs. G. W. Bradley.

Mrs. F. M. Verry is entertaining for Thanksgiving her daughter, Mrs. Laura Park, and granddaughter, Miss Irene Park, of Jacksonville; Mrs. Lila M. Cooper of Forest City, Ill., and Mrs. Lou D. Park of Decatur.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor are enjoying a Thanksgiving visit from their daughter, Miss Edith Taylor, of Jacksonville.

Mrs. Elizabeth Goss of Delavan, who spent a few days last week with Waverly relatives, is now making a visit in DeWitt, Kansas.

Word has ben received from Parsons, Kansas, of the death of the two-year old child of Mrs. Lizzie Talbott. Mrs. Talbott is a sister of Mrs. J. C. McQueen, northwest of Waverly.

Charles Flanagan returned Wednesday morning from Jacksonville where he had been to attend the dance given the evening before by the Knights of Columbus.

For several days past announcements have been posted of the Eddings operatic company, and the fact that its manager, Miss Georgiana Eddings, was born and reared in Waverly adds much to the interest of her appearance here tonight, Friday and Saturday.

Former Resident to Wed.

From Springfield comes word that Eugene W. Bradley of Chatham, a former resident of Waverly and son of M. M. Bradley of Decatur and a nephew of Dr. G. R. Bradley of Jacksonville, is soon to marry Miss Hazel Saun Calvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Calvin of Streator, Ill. Mr. Bradley is a young man of marked talent and unquestioned ability, a musician by profession, who stands high among orchestra leaders in the capital city. The marriage will be solemnized during the holiday season. Announcement of the approaching wedding was made Tuesday afternoon by her sister, Mrs. R. D. Wallace of Springfield, at a "Five Hundred" party given at the Leland hotel.

W. R. Huckeby of Jacksonville was in Waverly Wednesday forenoon attending to business.

R. A. Hartman of Jacksonville was among Waverly business visitors yesterday.

To Attend St. Louis Game.

Dr. Walter Allyn will go to St. Louis today to attend the Thanksgiving football game between the McKinley high and the Central high school for the championship of St. Louis. A nephew of Dr. Allyn, the son of his sister, Mrs. Crane, will play in the McKinley team. The winner of the St. Louis championship will play Englewood high school, the champion of Chicago, in a post-season game.

Work on the new high school building is progressing nicely and the first story is already almost complete. The building, which is a fine loking structure of Danville brick with stone trimmings, gives good promise of completion by April 1, the time announced.

BIG CARNIVAL; J. H. S.

Big carnival at Jacksonville High school at 7:30 this evening. Everybody come. Admission ten cents.

BOSTON TO RECLAIM ITS MUD FLATS.

Boston, Nov. 24—The directors of the port of Boston will begin at once the filling and reclaiming of more than three million square feet of flats belonging to the state at East Boston, and bids for the work will be opened at the state house today. Two million tons of mud will be used to fill in the flats within the next year, and sites for industrial, manufacturing and storage purposes will then be available, situated on deep tide water.

The present reclamation plans are expected to yield from three to five millions to reimburse the state.

HOW THANKSGIVING DAY CAME TO US

In every home in America, preparations are under way for the observance of Thanksgiving day, today. It is the day set for general recognition of our blessings and for expression of joy in our happy condition as a people. There is much this year to be thankful for as a nation. The wheels of industry are humming at their height, we have garnered a record harvest, and peace, the blessing that has forsaken so many nations, is still with us.

Thanksgiving day is peculiarly an American institution. It is not borrowed, as are so many of our holidays, from ancient traditions of the older world or from ecclesiastical calendars. While it has a basis of religious belief in the protective grace of an over-ruling Providence, it has gained its place of supremacy because it stands for the ideal of the community out of which our great republic has grown. At every step in the evolution, this is apparent as the controlling impulse.

The beginning of the real Thanksgiving day come from the heart and mind of William Bradford, the first governor of Plymouth. Grateful for the rich harvest of 1621, after a long period of privations and semi-starvation, this good man proclaimed a day of thanksgiving for Dec. 13, old style calendar of that year. Then did the royal bird of our Thanksgiving dinner tables make his legitimate entrance into the theatre of action.

The good governor, having fixed upon the day of thanksgiving for the Pilgrims, sent four stout warriors with guns in search of game. These early hunters returned at night staggering under the weight of wild turkeys sufficient to meet the wants of Plymouth for a week. To them were added the goodies connected by the thrifty housewives of the colony, and when the 13th of December dawned, all was in readiness for the first real American Thanksgiving ever known.

And that was not all. After Elder Brewster's sermon in the church—a matter of two or three hours—dinner followed; and the scent of its goodness seems to have been wafted into the depths of the forest, for in the midst of the feast the Indian yell was heard and a party of a hundred friendly redskins under King Massasoit appeared, bringing with them great haunches of venison. With all this supply of food on hand, it is not strange to learn that the day of Thanksgiving lengthened into three, the feast being varied with psalm singing and exhortations; with war dances by the Indians; with military drill by stout Myles Standish's soldiery, and with various sports and pastimes of the more sober English kind.

This was the first Thanksgiving, and others followed more or less regularly down through the years. From Massachusetts the observance spread throughout New England and later obtained national recognition. Washington proclaimed a day of thanksgiving following the successful ending of the War for Independence, and Lincoln did the same after the battle of Gettysburg. Thereafter the last Thursday in November has been designated from Washington, and a national holiday has become established.

It is recorded that on Thanksgiving day, 1713, the governor of Connecticut and the king's commissioners were just preparing to fall upon the viands, when it was announced in horror-stricken tones that the bear prepared for the occasion had been "shot on ye Lords Day". At that dismal news, the entire gathering declined to touch a morsel of the roast bear, and it was decided that the Indian who shot the animal should be whipped to the extent of 39 stripes and restore the price paid for the meat. Then, having inflicted a "just and righteous sentence on ye sinful heathen", the company fell upon the meal with clear consciences and quickly put it out of sight.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA SCORES BIG SUCCESS

ST. LOUIS ORGANIZATION APPEARS AT GRAND.

Big Audience Greets Players and Artistic Program Elicits Great Praise From Music Lovers—Miss Marie Caslova in Role of Violin Soloist.

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra scored a big success on their second appearance at the Grand Wednesday night, before a capacity house. The audience was made up of the best musical talent of the city, many also attending from near by towns and cities. The orchestra shows a decided growth since its appearance here last, under the capable hands of Mr. Max Zach. The ensemble work was cleaner cut and the various instruments were better balanced. It was an enthusiastic audience that greeted the seventy-five players, and insistant demands were made for encores.

The program was especially prepared for the concert here and opened with the prelude to "Lohengrin" by Wagner. The orchestra in its rendition displayed a big fine tempo and of splendid quality of the strings and wood winds. The poetic setting of the selection was well interpreted.

The MacDowell numbers were striking for their brilliant colors and especially pleasing to the audience was the "Dirge," being a remarkable picture of sorrow.

The "Les Preludes" of Liszt affording a strong closing number. The theme was very artistically worked out and afforded the orchestra a wonderful opportunity to show its tonal qualities and its close was a most brilliant climax. Mr. Zach is certainly a perfect master of his orchestra and the absence of mannerisms adds force to his work.

Miss Marie Caslova most acceptably filled the position of solo violinist. She is a pupil of Sevcik, Carl Flesch and Arrigo Serato. She produces a fine tone and her technique is brilliant and attack sure. She plays with unusual musical understanding and ranks well among the violinist of the country. Jacksonville music lovers will welcome again the St. Louis Symphony orchestra.

The program follows:

Wagner ...Prelude to "Lohengrin"
MacDowell ..Suite No. 2 ("Indian") Op. 48

I Legend
II Love-Song
III In War Time
IV Dirge
V Village Festival

Weber .....Overture to "Oberon"
Saint-Saens .Violin Solo: Havanaise Op. 83
Liszt .....Symphonic Poem No. 3 "Les Preludes"

The dry goods house of C. J. Deppe & Co. will not be open for business at all today.

SOUTH JACKSONVILLE FILES PROTEST WITH UTILITY COMMISSION

Objects to Having Coal Hauled Over Street Car Line Thru the Village —Board Asked to Prevent Proposed Plan.

At a recent meeting of the trustees of the Village of South Jacksonville it was voted that a protest be filed with the Illinois utility commission against the proposed plan of hauling coal cars over the Jacksonville street railway from the junction of the Chicago & Alton railroad and the Vandalia road to Jacksonville state hospital and the gas plant. The petition is signed by Elmer E. Beastall, clerk of the board, and it is presumed that the commission will investigate conditions here and will then act in accordance with its best judgment. The movement to arrange for the hauling of coal over the street railway tracks in order to save the new street paving in Jacksonville from heavy traffic was formally launched in October, and a conference was held Oct. 13th. The state board of administration, the city authorities, Illinois Traction system and the Chicago & Alton railroad agreed upon the details so far as they were concerned. At that conference J. H. Hackett, as president of South Jacksonville board, said that he did not wish to go on record as favoring the plan, altho the trustees had not made up their minds as to the best course to follow. The petition recently filed indicates the action finally determined upon. The protest is in the following language:

"Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 14, '15.

'State Utilities Commission,

"Springfield, Ill.

"Gentlemen: At their regular meeting which was held on Nov. 3, 1915, the president and trustees of the village of South Jacksonville, Morgan county, Illinois, the following resolution was unanimously passed:

'Whereas, There is a movement on foot looking to the hauling of coal over the tracks of the Jacksonville street railway; and

"'Whereas, Concessions have heretofore been made to the said railway company, with the understanding that the road should be used exclusively for the carrying of passengers;

"'Therefore, Be it Resolved, That we, the trustees of the village of South Jacksonville, voice the sentiment of the citizens of the village generally in opposing such use of its streets.

"'Resolved, That the village clerk is hereby instructed to file a copy of this project with the state utilities commission and ask that honorable body to see that our rights in the case are protected.

"This resolution was unanimously adopted by the board of trustees at their meeting held Nov. 3, 1915.

(Signed),

"Elmer E. Beastall, Clerk."

REVOLVER IN HANDS OF PLAY-MATE IS DISCHARGED IN BOY'S FACE

Son of Clarence Reid Injured While at Play Near Parents' Home Wednesday Afternoon.

A revolver in the careless hands of a playmate was the cause of an accident Wednesday afternoon which might easily have been fatal to Robert Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reid, 341 West Lafayette avenue. The twelve year old boy was playing with a number of his fellows near the corner of West Lafayette avenue and North Church street about five o'clock. One of the boys had obtained a twenty-two calibre revolver and it was this weapon, raised suddenly to young Reid's face and discharged, which sent a bullet thru his nose and into the head.

Examination was made by Drs. Cole and Canatsey. Serious consequences are not feared, tho the boy will be taken to the hospital for treatment.

It is the purpose to equip this room for gatherings of members or for public occasions. In the south end a partition will be built and a small but convenient kitchen arranged. This will make it possible to serve suppers in this room when desirable. Doors from this room open into the locker rooms and thus another means of exit will be afforded when a large company has assembled. The added facilities are very much needed and will aid in the extensive work that the association directors have in mind. President Rodgers of the Y. M. C. A. board ordered the contract Wednesday.

HIGH SCHOOL CARNIVAL WILL BE HELD TONIGHT

Students Have Arranged for Evening of Fun and Large Crowd Anticipated.

Great expectations are entertained regarding the high school carnival to be held this evening in the high school building and the most elaborate preparations for it are being made. The enterprise has been given over to the students and they are leaving nothing undone to make it a success. The ward school buying the largest number of tickets will have a prize and the grade in the David Prince building. Indications are that the attendance will be large.

The freshman class will have a booth for the sale of the pictures of the football squad; the sophomores will sell cider and doughnuts; the juniors will sell sandwiches, pies and other good things; the seniors will sell home made candies. For each of these booths a special committee has been named and all will be carried on in the best manner.

In an attractive manner Miss Bea Ellis will tell fortunes while a trip thru Hades will be another feature of the evening. The "Grassville Police" will wear stars and look wise as peacemakers or keepers; Great William, the Magician, will astonish everybody with his wonderful feats of legerdemain and an opportunity will be given strong people to Ring the Bell, while a score of attractive young ladies will have charge of a motion picture show.

Each one of these attractions will have a person especially assigned to shout the attractions to the multitude, ticket sellers and ticket takers.

Then there will be athletic demonstrations exhibiting the accomplishments of the students on parallel bars, while the big show of the evening will be the minstrels which will be separate from other performances. There will be an interlocutor, end men, male chorus and girls chorus.

It is certainly needless to add that with such an array of attractions the carnival will be a very enjoyable affair.
